

Gambia.com is a Gambian owned online news publisher and business directory which was established in 2011.

“a healthy society needs a healthy news diet”

Our ethos is to support and promote independent and public interest. We make it easy for millions of people to discover news from Gambian publishers all in one place.

100's + Daily news stories & videos

1000's of Vetted Publications

24/7/365 Updating Every Minute

From some of your favourite publishers including

We help publishers and businesses of all sizes access audiences that may otherwise be hard to reach

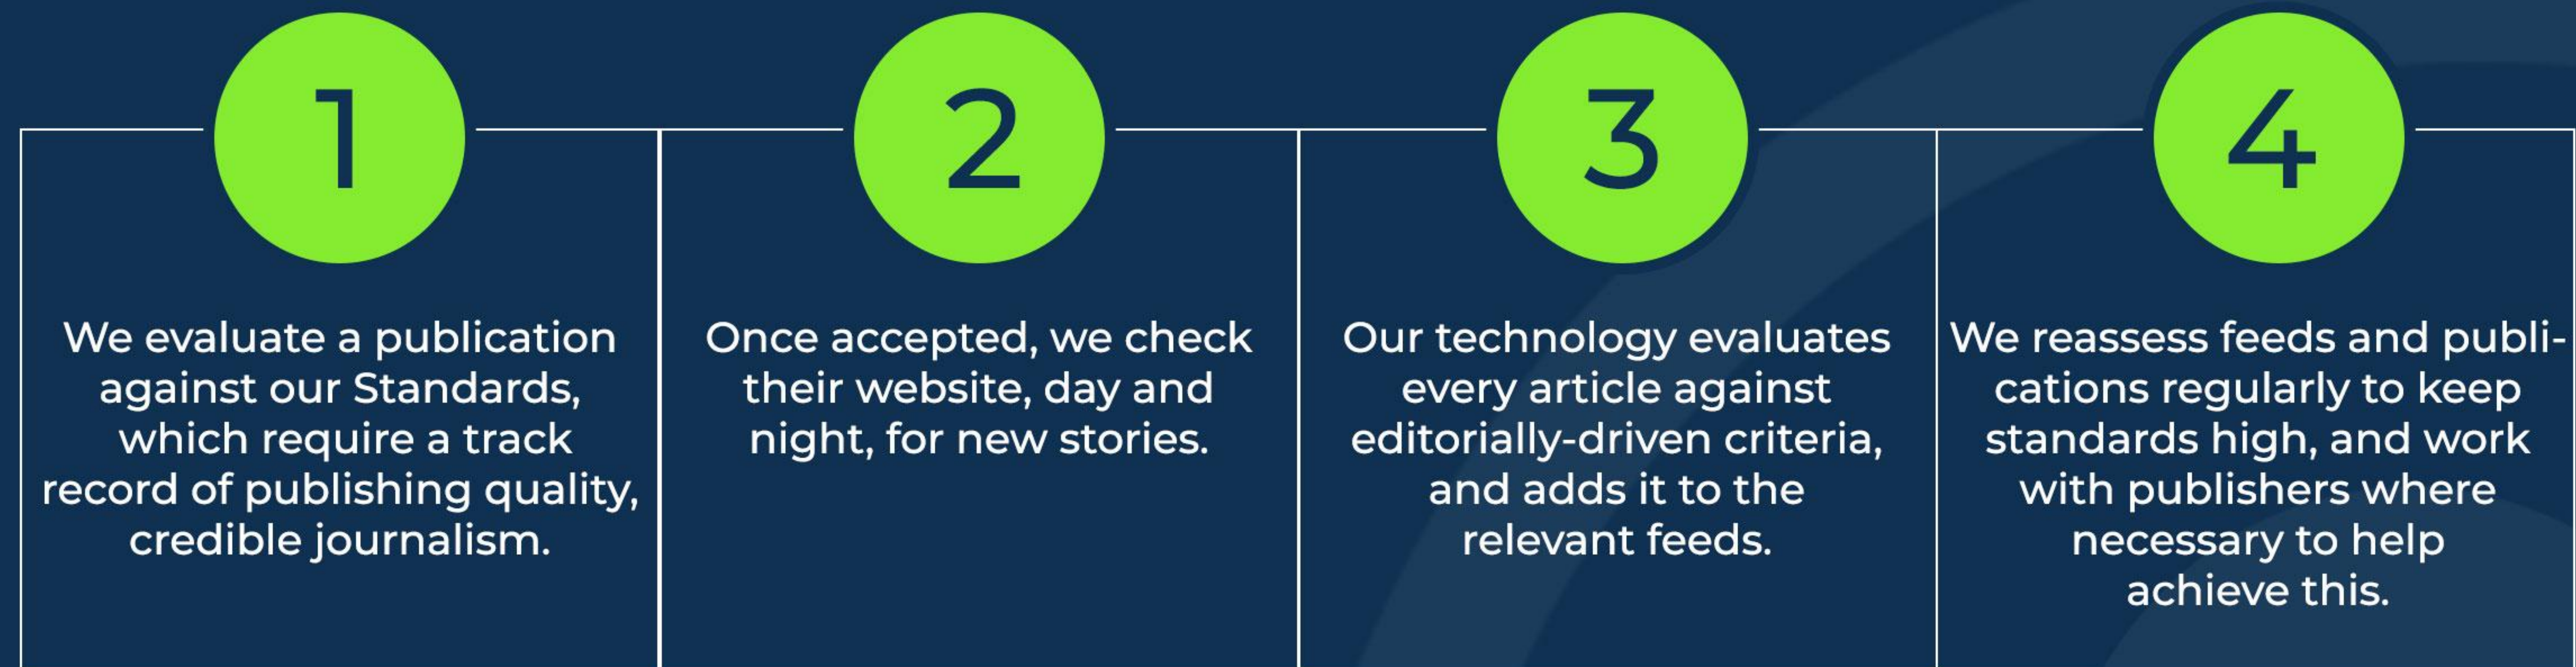

5000 Visits Monthly

1000's of Articles Read Daily

How we operate

Our ethos

News is at the core of what we do. We're driven by the need to help make news serve people better, because a healthy society needs a healthy news diet.

We exist to facilitate this, by publishing headlines linking to breaking and curated news from a diverse range of credible, independent and public interest news sources.

The company

Founded 10 years ago by Gambian entrepreneurs and developers to democratise the news media.

- A news organisation using technology to support and promote credible, independent and public interest journalism, and in turn, news media plurality
- Running stably and sustainably since launch
- Still independently owned and founder-led today
- Advocate of open-source technology and contributor to open-source projects

Gambia.com is a Gambian owned online news publisher and business directory which was established in 2011.

Getting in touch

✉ info@gambia.com

☎ (+220) 7002233